'work to live and play at work'

Xcetera is a new brand in office furniture, initiated by Timo Westra from Westra Etc. and designer Basten Leijh of Bleijh concept & design. The goal is to become a 'sexy' office furniture brand. The desks and meeting tables are made for 90% from plywood with steel components. The furniture comes in a variety of standard colors with the possibility to apply a custom color. The desks are expressive and become an integral part of the interior design and a perfect match for the corporate identity.
